Thanksgiving Proclamation.

President McKinley has issued his first Thanksgiving proclamation as follows:

"In remembrance of God's goodness to us during the past year, which has been so abundant, 'let us offer unto Him our thanksgiving and pay our vows unto the Most High.' Under His watchful providence industry has prospered, the conditions of labor have been improved, the rewards of the husbandman have been increased, and the comforts of his home multiplied. His mighty hand has preserved peace and protected the nation. Respect for law and order has been strengthened, love of free institutions cherished, and all sections of our beloved country brought into closer bonds of fraternal regard and generous co-operation.

"For these great benefits it is our duty to praise the Lord in a spirit of humility and gratitude and offer up to Him our most earnest supplications. That we may acknowledge our obligations as a people to him who has so graciously granted us the blessings of free government and material prosperity, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, for national thanksgiving and prayer, which all the people are invited to observe with appropriate religious services in their respective places of worship. On this day of rejoicing and domestic reunion let our prayers ascend to the giver of every good and perfect gift for the continuance of His love and favor to us, that our hearts may be filled with charity and good will, and that we may be ever worthy of beneficent concern.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1897, and of the United States one hundred and twenty-second.

How To Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people.—Mrs. M. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by J. T. Day.

NUGGETS.

A FREAK election bet in Ohio led to a duel, and one of the participants may die.

HEAVY frosts in the yellow fever districts have checked the ravages of the dread disease and the situation is now more hopeful.

THE Spanish ministry has taken Gen. Weyler to task and unless he gives satisfactory reasons for his actions in Cuba, he will be court martialed.

ALL reports from Ohio show that Gov. Bushnell is re-elected by a plurality of over 20,000, and that the legislature is so close that Hanna may be defeated for senator.

THE president of the sugar trust, H. O. Havemeyer, is seriously ill with appendicitis at his home in New York, and the price of sugar stock declined several points in consequence.

THE steamer Victoria has been provisioned for an eight months' cruise and is under instructions from King Oscar, of Sweden, to search for Prof. Andre and his balloon in the Arctic regions.

THE Washington express, a fast train on the C. & O., was wrecked near Charlottesville, W. Va. Four persons were killed outright and seventeen injured. The accident is thought to have been caused by the rails spreading.

NOR to be outdone in the way of a romantic marriage, Arthur C. Standras, of New York, was wedded to Miss Charlotte Wiberg, a Boston belle, Rev. Geo. Reader, of Ohio, performing the ceremony in a den of ferocious lions at the Boston Zoo.

TAMMANY came out victorious in the fight for the mayoralty of New York. Judge Robert A. Van Wyck being elected by a plurality of nearly 100,000. The Jefferson (gold bug) Democrats polled only 81,578 votes, showing conclusively that free silver is a very lively corpse.

A SPECIAL from London, England, to the Enquirer, states that J. R. Ford, wanted in Cincinnati for forgery, has been extradited. Ford had just served a term in jail for a similar offense and is willing to come back, saying he would rather be hanged in America than live in England.

THE will of the late George M. Pullman gives his two sons an income of $3,000 each per year for life, and they are raising a terrible howl. The father left their portion of the estate in trust because he considered them totally unfit to handle large sums of money or a vast amount of real estate.

ARIZONA is determined to have railroads within her bounds and as an inducement will exempt all roads upon which construction is commenced this year from taxation for 15 years. There are only about 1,300 miles of railroads in the territory at present, and 31 lines have given notice to the authorities that they will take advantage of the offer.

THE west bound passenger train on the Cotton Belt road, in Texas, had a fatal run last Friday. At one place it ran over and killed one man; about thirty miles further west it ran into three little children killing two, and a few miles further on one of the passengers committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

AN EFFORT will be made by the next congress to pass a national quarantine law. This measure has been always strenuously opposed by the southern members, but it is rumored that now many of them are in favor of a national quarantine system, as by this means it is thought that the ravages of yellow fever and other infectious diseases can be prevented to a great extent.

WHETHER it was done intentionally or not, but Gov. Bradley deferred issuing his Thanksgiving proclamation until after the Democratic victory in the state. It reads: "The 25th day of November is hereby set apart and designated as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the commonwealth and the people are requested to abstain from labor and in every way observe the day as one on which grateful thanks should be rendered unto the Most High."

OUT OF POLITICS

The Courier-Journal Announces It Will Go and Will Take No Partisan Course in Future Contests.

In a double headed editorial in last Thursday's issue, the Courier Journal makes the sensational statement that it is out of politics in the following:

"The Courier Journal has little to add to what it has already said by anticipation touching the Democratic situation in Kentucky brought into being by the vote of Tuesday last. The vote confirms the position of the convention that nominated Mr. Shackelford for clerk of the court of appeals and repudiates the position of the convention which nominated Mr. Hindman. It fixes the relation of the Democratic organization in Kentucky to the national organization of the Democratic party, at least through the next state and national elections. It is so decisive in character as to leave nothing to conjecture, and the Courier Journal has neither the wish nor the purpose to challenge it.

"The issue as it was made, and has been fought out, was clear and explicit. No effort was wanting to maintain it. Nobody could by any possibility be mistaken about it. We may regret the verdict against us, but we accept it. We shall make no further effort to direct the party course or counsel, or to share in any of the responsibilities of party leadership, having done our best, according to our conscience and belief, to divert our political associates from a policy and procedure, the end of which no man can now foresee, the results of which we very much fear, both as to the welfare of the country and the party. But we are Democrats, not Republicans, and, nailing our flag to the masthead of Honest Money, Free Trade and Home Rule, we shall in the character of a private soldier in the ranks contribute whatever we are able to the ascertainment and the vindication of truth.

"For the gentlemen who have by their victory confirmed their leadership, we entertain not the least ill-will. All the honor belonging to that leadership be theirs; and, let us add, all the responsibilities. If they continue to win victories, they will approve their commissions. If they lose them they, in turn, will have to pay the penalties of defeat. Where we can we shall support them. Where we can not we shall enter no factious opposition to them. We go to political annihilation with perfect composure—without a single resentment or regret—having fought out to the bitter end a profound conviction in perfect fairness and good faith.

"There are many suggestions which the vote of Tuesday summons to the minds of thoughtful people; notably, the results in Maryland, Greater New York and the city of Louisville, incident to the elimination of strife and the union of party forces; and as the smoke of battle clears, wise men may perhaps find it salutary to take these into consideration. But, for the present, we shall leave the moral of the conflict now ended to impress itself in its own way upon the masses of the people. As we said in the beginning, and have said during the progress of the battle, we repeat now: From none of the consequences of the fight we have made for what we have believed just policies and sound ideas, have we the least disposition to shrink.

"Had we the whole thing to go over we should not veer a hair's line from the course we have pursued; and, reviewing the record, we recollect no word, or act, which we would recall. What the rest can stand, we can stand. With charity for all, with malice toward none, we shall continue to do business at the old stand precisely as if nothing whatever had happened; relieved to be rid of all responsibility in party affairs; glad to go to the rear of the columns; quite assured of our ability at all times and under all circumstances to hold our own with friend or foe, and certainly indifferent whether the case in point be a fight, or a foot race!"

Senator Hanna accounts for the Republican breakdown in Ohio by saying that "good times have made the people careless." It is strange that good times should put ginger into the Democracy while operating as an opiate on the other fellows.—Philadelphia Record.

Louis & Gus Straus,

THE PIONEER CLOTHIERS.

LEXINGTON, KY.

A Kentucky paper which has for a long time been trying to save the Democratic party, "all by itself," has given up the fight since the party took up the salvation business the other day. The editorial which announces the abandonment of the enterprise is a curiosity in circumlocution, and a fine specimen of trying to "come down" while maintaining the appearance of still roosting high. Properly translated it would read about this way: "We have done our best, but we fear that notwithstanding our splendid efforts everything is going to the devil; but we feel it a duty to get back in the band wagon and go to the devil with the old party, and all its sins, provided we are given dilettante consideration and are allowed to return to a seat at the first table. Of course we think this much ought to be accorded to us for old times' sake; but the fact is we have to go along if we only get the scraps. We're 'out of meat.'"—Enquirer.

HOW TO FIND-OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

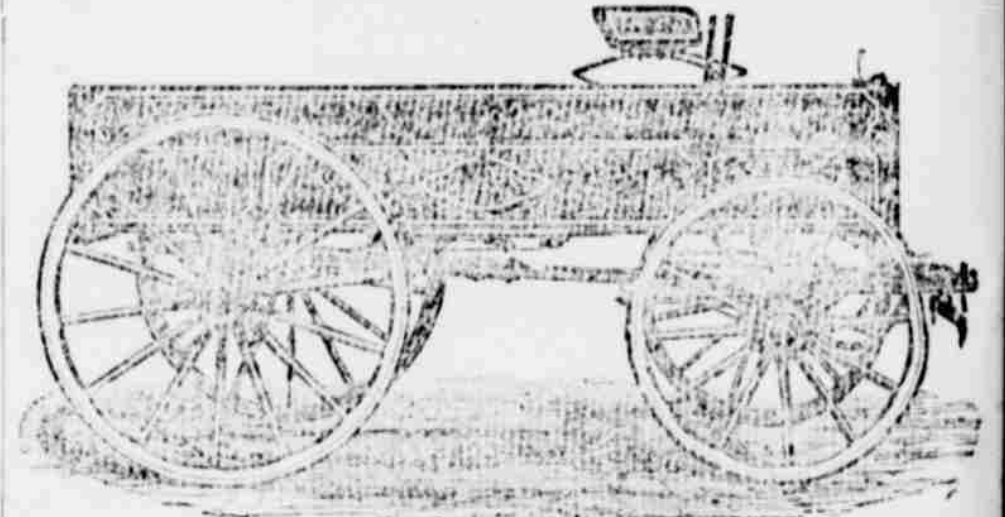

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

Every person who enters the contest will get a premium of some kind. Send at once for free sample copy of the paper which will explain all. Contest closes April 23, 1898.

We want some of our subscribers to bring in that corn and those potatoes they promised us last summer on subscription.

Elder J. T. Pieratt and wife returned Monday from St. Helens, and report much improvement in the health of their daughter, Mrs. Thomas.

Elder H. D. Adams will go Saturday morning to Salversville to fill his regular monthly appointment at the Christian church at that place.

Henry D. Adams purchased the farm on which he now resides from Ed F. Cecil, paying $300 therefor. The tract contains between 35 and 40 acres.

Elsewhere will be found an ad. of one of the best farms in Morgan county for sale. Read it and then write J. G. Trimble, at Mt. Sterling, for further particulars.

Rev. W. B. Ragan, accompanied by Rev. J. R. Word, went to Goodwin's chapel Monday evening, where he will conduct quarterly meeting the last of the week.

The bleak and dreary days of November are now upon us and it behooves all who wish to pay their subscription to THE HERALD in produce to bring it in at once before the roads get bad.

The telephone from Hazel Green to Mt. Sterling via Maytown and Ezel is a sure go, the line having been staked out and the work of setting the poles and stretching the wire will begin at an early date.

Mrs. Ellen Kash is having the interior of her house done in oak graining and hard oil finish by that artist of artists, Sam Wilson, and when completed Mrs. Kash will have the prettiest parlor in Hazel Green.

Willie H. Pieratt made a dying trip to Clay City. He left here Sunday at 3 a. m., took the morning train from Torrent, returning to Torrent on the evening train Monday and arrived home by 10 o'clock the same night.

Bro. Cassity, of the Morgan County Democrat, had an experience of trying to publish a paper in the mountains off the railroad. Last week his ready print failed to arrive and he resorted to the expedient of printing a half sheet on manila paper.

Courtney McGuire left here Monday morning to invoice and brand logs for the Day Bros. Co. along the Red river between here and Clay City. He has been given some position with the firm at their Clay City plant, but we failed to learn what it is.

Winter will soon be with us and then cold winds will blow through the cracks in your cabins making it very uncomfortable. To remedy this you can cover your wall with old newspapers, of which we have several hundred and will sell to the first who comes at 20 cents per hundred.

The first quarterly meeting for Hazel Green circuit of the M. E. Church South, was held last Saturday and Sunday by the new presiding elder, Rev. W. B. Ragan. The meetings were well attended and the preaching was pronounced of a high order. The new preacher for the work, Rev. J. R. Word, arrived with his family and household goods on Saturday, and assisted in the quarterly meeting service, preaching to a fine audience Sunday night.

The teachers' association for the first magisterial district will be held in the academy chapel, at Hazel Green, on Saturday, November 13, at 1:30 p. m. All teachers are requested to be present. Following is the

The most pleasant time of the year on the farm for the good housewife is the hog killing time. Then it is she can say, "Yes, I have lard enough now. We can have some crullers and pies, mince and otherwise." It is also then that the farmer was most bothered as to know just how to cure his hams. Here is a premium recipe: To four gallons of water add eight pounds of coarse salt, one quarter ounce potash, two ounces of saltpetre, two pounds brown sugar. Boil together, skim when cold, put on the above quantity to 100 pounds of meats, hams to remain in eight weeks, beef three weeks. Let the hams drain a few days before smoking. Meat of all kinds may be preserved for years by a light application of pyroligneous acid applied with a brush, sealing up in cans as usual. It imparts a splendid flavor to the meat, is very cheap and an effectual preventive against loss.—Ex.

W. P. Norris was in Hazel Green yesterday and informs us that he has severed his connection with the Campton Banner. While editor of the Banner Mr. Norris gave evidence of his ability as a good newspaper writer and kept the columns of that paper clean of all vituperation in one of the most heated local campaigns in the history of Wolfe county, though both parties used the columns freely in showing why they should be the chosen ones. Mr. Norris has not yet decided on his future career, but THE HERALD wishes him abundant success in all his undertakings.

The following is the order of appointments of the M. E. church during the coming year: Hazel Green, first Sunday, morning and night; Elkins Chapel, second Sunday, morning and night; Lacy creek, third Sunday, morning and night, and at Pine Grove, fourth Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meetings on Thursday night, Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock. The public cordially invited to be present at all services.

"Prosperity" has at last struck Hazel Green. John H. Pieratt is erecting a new building on Broadway, near Main street, and will remove his harness and saddle shop to it as soon as completed. The place he now occupies will be used as a warehouse for the Racket store.

Dr. John A. Taulbee had the misfortune to have three ribs broken last Tuesday morning. He had gone into the stable after his horse and from some cause the animal pressed against him with the result above stated.

Our "thank tank" has once again been opened to receive a donation of the finest red beets it has been our good fortune to partake of for some time, and for which delicacy the editor and better-I return thanks to Mrs. Harry Nickell.

The longer you neglect a cold the harder it is to get rid of it. The very first symptom should be met with a dose of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. This famous remedy will cure it whether of short or long standing.

Owing to the condition of my health I will, about November 15, start to Hot Springs, Ark., and I sincerely hope that every man indebted to me will call and pay his account, as I am compelled to have money before I go. Don't delay this matter but come at once.

Very Respectfully,

H. F. PIERATT.

The Hicks 1898 Almanac and Paper.

We are informed that the 1898 almanac of Prof. H. R. Hicks is now ready, and judging from its past history, it will not be many weeks in finding its way into homes and offices all over America. It is much larger and finer than any previous issue. It contains 116 pages, is splendidly printed and illustrated on fine book paper, having the finest portrait ever given of Prof. Hicks. It can no longer be denied that the publications of Prof. Hicks have become a necessity to the family and commercial life of this country. His Journal, Word and Works, aside from its storm, weather and astronomical features, has taken rank with the best literary, scientific and family magazines of the age. Do not believe hearsay and reports. See the Hicks almanac and paper for yourself. You will then know why they are so popular. They are educators of the millions, and unrivalled safeguards to property and human life. It is matter of simple record that Prof. Hicks has foretold for many years all great storms, floods, droughts and tornadoes, even the recent terrible drought over all the country. The almanac alone is 25 cents a copy. The paper is $1 a year, with the almanac as a premium. Send to WORD AND WORKS PUB. CO., 2201 Locust street, St. Louis, Mo.

"Before the steward takes up the collection," said a preacher lately, "I wish to make a few remarks. There are over 200 persons in this house, counting sinners and saints, big and little, male and female, not including the crying babies. If each person present here thinks my sermon worth the price of a beer or a nickel cigar, five red cents or a dime, let them pay that amount. If each pay a nickel it will make a total of $10 this evening. This repeated every week in the year would pay my salary. A sermon that isn't worth a nickel isn't worth coming to hear, and the person that will hear the Lord, the preacher and the printer is a goat of the most odiferous kind"—Ex.

Speck Comber, a peddler, was found dead near Irvington, with $3,000 on his person.

Many fights occurred throughout the state on election day and some with serious results.

Levi Bohanan, a respected Bath county farmer, fell from a wagon and was instantly killed.

On Monday before the election every revolver in the hardware stores at Lexington was sold.

Near Flemingsburg, Miss Phoenix Jones committed suicide with poison because she was crossed in love.

Scarlet fever is raging to such an extent in the vicinity of Lebanon that the public schools have been closed.

Miss Ozette O'Flynn sent to the Owensboro Messenger office a specimen of six leafed clover, and thus puts the four leafed kind to shame.

Chief of Police Stephens, of Midway, who shot and killed Jason Miller, a Scott county farmer, a short time since, has been indicted for murder.

Miss Porch, of Somerset, aimed at a cow to frighten her and the bullet from her rifle killed the animal. Her father had to pay $40 for the cow.

While coon hunting in Kenton county a young man named Fallnew chopped down a tree which fell on him and crushed his body into a shapeless mass.

William Smith and John Duffy, charged with robbing the postoffice and cracking the safe at Woodbine, escaped from Middlesboro jail one night recently.

Seven thoroughbred yearlings by Spokane, the famous Derby winner, were sold in Lexington last Saturday for a total of $126. The lowest price was $2.50.

Miss Pauline Forst, an enthusiastic Democratic woman of Louisville, presented Mayor-elect Weaver with a fine game rooster as a souvenir of his recent victory.

Egbert Gadd, a 14 year-old Rockcastle county boy, has mysteriously disappeared from home, leaving a note telling his parents he would never return. No cause is assigned.

For the past three months a systematic robbery of loaded freight cars has been going on at Guthrie, and officers made a raid and arrested nine negroes charged with the crime.

James Brooks, of Rockcastle once a colonel on a Kentucky governor's staff, after a term in the Ohio penitentiary, is at Williamsburg to answer to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

A. N. Warnock, the postmaster and station agent at Chilesburg, a small station a few miles east of Lexington on the C. & O., was knocked senseless the other night and robbed of $85 by a footpad.

Morehead is to have a new bank, of which the incorporators are J. M. Bradley, J. I. Whitt, E. Muse, M. B. Mark, F. C. Button, Ben T. Head and L. P. V. Williams. It will begin operations about January 1, 1898.

The new brewery will shortly be built at Lexington. Zitt & Long, of Chicago, have been granted a permit to erect six brick and stone buildings on East Main street, to cost $40,000. Ground was broken last week.

The verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the Frankfort election riot, simply find that Deakins killed Egbert and that Egbert killed Deakins, and that Glore was killed by unknown parties. No conviction was expected.

W. M. Palmer, a coal thief at Owensboro, was shot in the eye while in the act of stealing coal, and the eye went out. He sued the owner of the coal who shot him for $2,000 damage. The jury decided he was not entitled to recover.

Ex-Chief Justice B. J. Peters, who has but recently recovered from a severe illness, celebrated the 92nd anniversary of his birth, at his home in Mt. Sterling, by having a number of his old associates and friends with him at his hospitable board.

Some years ago Joe Wright shot J. C. Blackerty while assisting officers to arrest him. They met at Junction City the other day and renewed the quarrel. Wright fired on Blackerty, who returned the shot. Both fell mortally wounded, and both died before the smoke of their pistols had disappeared.

In our last issue Elder Joseph Ballou offered $25 reward for the thief who stole his sow, if a negro, and $50 if a white man. We asked him why he made the difference. "Because," he answered, "there is less necessity for a white man to steal than a negro, and it is, therefore, much meaner for him to do it. By the way, I will give $25 for the arrest and conviction of any man who steals a hog from anybody in this county, and keep it a standing offer."—Stanford Interior-Journal.

Messrs. H. W. and J. M. Cornelson report a curious phenomenon on the farm of J. T. Smith, two miles from Richmond on the Lancaster pike. On cutting down a large elm tree they were astonished to see a stream of water gush out of the stump and fall in sparkling spray like water from a fountain. This was two weeks ago and there has been no cessation in the flow. The supposition is that there is a spring beneath the tree, to which tree worms, during the drouth, made an artificial channel and when the tree was cut down the water found a way to escape. Both gentlemen are men of veracity and will vouch for the truth of the story.

The 3-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved the little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by J. T. Day.

A Novel Cure For Rheumatism.

W. T. Woodard, the well known horse man, has a new cure for rheumatism. Several months since, while he was so bad with it that he could scarcely get about with crutches, a friend told him to take two pieces of carbons that had been thrown out of a fire and carry them in his pockets. He thought nothing more of the remedy until a few days after when sitting in front of a Louisville hotel he saw a lamp trimmer throw a couple of pieces to the sidewalk. Mr. Woodard picked them up, put one into each of his pants pockets and thought no more of it. To his great astonishment in a few days he was able to walk without crutches and the pain had left him. He says he is not superstitious, but will always carry the carbons in his pockets.

A Great Magazine Feature.
The Ladies' Home Journal has secured what promises to be the great magazine feature of 1898. It is entitled, "The Inner Experiences of a Cabinet Member's Wife." In a series of letters written by the wife of a cabinet member to her sister at home, are detailed her actual experiences in Washington, frankly and freely given. The letters were written without any intention of publication. They give intimate peeps behind the curtains of high official and social life. They are absolutely fearless, they study Washington life under the searchlight as it has never been before presented. The president and the highest officials in the land, with the most brilliant men and women of the capital, are seen in the most familiar way. As these are all actual experiences the name of the writer is withheld. The letters will doubtless excite much shrewd guessing by readers and study of internal evidence to discover the secret. The "Experiences," which will be beautifully illustrated, begin in the December number and will continue several months.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.
